

Travelling to Singapore?

All foreign visitors now need to submit the SG Arrival Card with the health declaration. You can do so up to 3 days* before your arrival in Singapore.

What is the SG Arrival Card?

The SG Arrival Card is the electronic version of the paper-based disembarkation/embarkation card that allows foreign visitors to submit their trip information before their arrival in Singapore.

How do you submit the SG Arrival Card?

You can submit the SG Arrival Card and health declaration via the Visit Singapore Travel Guide app, the platform approved by the Immigration & Checkpoints Authority (ICA) for the submission of the SG Arrival Card. You will have to create a Visit Singapore Account before submission. Alternatively, you can submit through ICA's SG Arrival Card e-Service or the mobile application.

Who should submit the SG Arrival Card?

All foreign visitors entering Singapore must submit the SG Arrival Card for arrival immigration clearance instead of the paper-based disembarkation/embarkation card, which has been discontinued since 27 March 2020.

Why should foreign visitors submit the health declaration?

The health declaration requirement is an additional precautionary measure to mitigate the risk of importation of COVID-19 (Coronavirus Disease 2019) into Singapore. You can submit your health declaration up to 3 days* before your arrival in Singapore, but you must re-submit your health declaration if there are changes to your health condition or travel history before arriving in Singapore.

What languages are the SG Arrival Card available in?

Currently, the SG Arrival Card is available in English on the Visit Singapore Travel Guide app. The SG Arrival Card will be available in other languages progressively later this year.

For example, if you are arriving on 30 Nov 2020, you can only submit your declaration from 28 Nov 2020 onwards.*
