GRAND PRIX™ SEASON
SINGAPORE 2 - 11 OCT 2026

GRAND PRIX™ SEASON SINGAPORE 2026

From 2 – 11 October, Singapore ignites with Grand Prix™ Season Singapore (GPSS) 2026, a 10-day citywide celebration where high-octane racing culture takes centre stage. Leading up to the thrill of the FORMULA 1 SINGAPORE AIRLINES SINGAPORE GRAND PRIX 2026 from 9 – 11 October, GPSS delivers an immersive experience that charges the whole island with unstoppable excitement and energy.

And the action stretches across the city. Restaurants, bars and nightclubs roll out race-themed menus and late-night takeovers. Retailers drop limited-edition releases. Attractions, hotels, cultural spaces and neighbourhoods get in on the action with exhibitions, simulators, pop-ups, parties and experiences built for race season.

From getting behind a racing rig to securing an exclusive season drop, taking in rooftop views with a cocktail, or discovering a pit stop somewhere unexpected, visitors have limitless possibilities to experience race culture. GPSS weaves food, fashion, nightlife, entertainment, and culture into unmissable itineraries across the city, offering endless ways to capture the rush before, between, and after track sessions.

10 days. One city. With plenty of ground to cover, the only thing left is for visitors to pick a line and join the momentum.

FORMULA 1 SINGAPORE AIRLINES SINGAPORE GRAND PRIX 2026

From 9 to 11 October, Singapore shifts into top gear as the FORMULA 1 SINGAPORE AIRLINES SINGAPORE GRAND PRIX 2026 takes over the Marina Bay Street Circuit. Watch as the world's top drivers go wheel-to-wheel at full speed on one of the calendar's most demanding street circuits, with the action building both on and off track throughout the weekend.

Then comes a new layer of intensity. For 2026, Singapore debuts its first-ever F1® Sprint, compressing the pressure into a 100km, all-out dash. Roughly 30 minutes of racing. No mandatory pit stops. Championship points on the line for the top eight. With far less time for teams to dial in the perfect set-up, every lap becomes a fight for position and every tenth a difference-maker.

Off the track, the volume stays turned up. Across 10 stages and more than 100 hours of entertainment, The Killers, Lana Del Rey, Janet Jackson, Zara Larsson, JJ Lin and James Arthur lead the bill, joined by Mark Ronson, DJ Snake, Major Lazer Soundsystem, Goo Goo Dolls, Cortis and more.

The racing doesn't stop there. The Porsche Carrera Cup Asia brings its own brand of close-quarters racing to Marina Bay, adding more wheel-to-wheel action to a weekend already running at maximum pace.

YOUR GRAND PRIX™ SEASON PLAYBOOK

TIPS FOR AN AMAZING GRAND PRIX™
SEASON SINGAPORE EXPERIENCE

1

Beat the Gridlock

Skip the traffic and let Singapore's train and bus network do the heavy lifting. It's fast, well connected and one of the easiest ways to move between GPSS stops. Ride-hailing is another convenient option, giving you more ways to keep your plans moving smoothly across the city.

2

Dress for Race Conditions

Gear up for Singapore's tropical conditions. Keep your kit light, lace up for plenty of mileage and be wet-weather ready for sudden showers. Pro tip: pack a portable fan along for a cool and comfortable season.

3

Know Which Roads are Closed

Race season means road closures around Marina Bay, including key stretches such as Esplanade Drive and Collyer Quay. Check live traffic updates on the Land Transport Authority's website so you can avoid an unwanted detour.

4

Need a Quick Pit Stop for Help?

Drop by a Singapore Visitor Centre for maps, recommendations and local tips. Whether you're planning your next meal, mapping out your route or hunting down a memorable souvenir, the team can help point you in the right direction. For even more destination inspiration, head to VisitSingapore.com.

5

Safety, Safety, Safety

Even the best race plans need a safety car. If you need emergency assistance, call 999 for the police or 995 for an ambulance. Save the numbers before race season so they are ready if you ever need them.
